

Privacy Policy

Seabase is extremely and actively concerned with privacy. We believe it to be an inalienable right for all individuals. We totally respect your privacy because we demand respect for our own.

Seabase has a dedicated contact person for privacy issues. Please direct any privacy related problems / issues directly to the Data Protection Manager by emailing info@seabase.eu.

The only information that we hold on you is what you provide us with on the website at the time of ordering or during any enquiries. This information is collected through the ordering and the enquiry systems for the only reason of sending you your goods, and answering your questions and enquiries.

Any information held is collected lawfully and in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998, and the revised Data Protection Act of May 2018. Data is received by SSL Encryption, on computers behind up-to-date firewalls. Sensitive information such as credit / debit card information is not stored on our databases in plain text, but is further protected by encryption, and is deleted after we have used the information to process your payment. We do not pass any of your details on to anyone, and therefore no opt-out scheme is needed. Cookies are used on this shopping site, but only to keep track of the contents of your shopping cart or country selection.

When you provide personally identifiable information to Seabase Limited, we may use it to provide you with ongoing information about Seabase Limited's products and services only with your express permission.

Seabase Limited will not rent, sell or lease this personally identifiable information to other companies or individuals. You have a right to access, rectify, modify and delete any data referring to you. To exercise this right please contact us immediately.

This does not affect your statutory rights as a consumer.
